

BASIC RULES

- * Once a player touches a stick, they must remove that stick
- * Players collect marbles that fall during their turn
- * A turn begins when a stick is touched and ends when the next player touches a stick
- * If playing with Totika question cards, player must answer the question if even one marble falls on their turn

SET UP

Use roughly an equal number of each color sticks during set up. Start by placing sticks in the top two rows of holes on all sides of tower and slide sticks straight through the tower to the exact opposite hole. Complete set up by randomly placing additional sticks throughout the tower both at angles and straight across on all other rows of holes. "At an angle" means not to the exact opposite side hole but instead to a hole that is left, right, above or below the exact opposite side hole. AT LEAST ONE STICK PER ROW MUST BE AT AN ANGLE. Not all holes will be filled and not all sticks will be used. When no more sticks can safely be put through the tower, gently place marbles in top of tower and place this instruction card on top of tower so players can't see the marbles!

HOW TO PLAY

Players take turns removing one stick from ONLY TOP TWO ROWS OF HOLES ON ALL SIDES until those 10 sticks have been removed. Then, players continue to take turns pulling a stick from ANYWHERE. If used with Totika questions cards, players ask another player the same color question as the stick removed on their turn. Play continues until all the marbles have dropped out of the tower. The player with the least amount of marbles wins that round of Plunktika!
